A proposed Guide to the Sharks of the World to be produced by a multiplicity of authors in a loose leaf format in order to insure wide dissemination of accurate and up-to-date information about the identification and biology of sharks. 2. A proposed Systematic Catalogue of Sharks and Rays of the World intended as a companion to the guide listed above but containing more technical, information for specialists. 3. A proposed Shark Data Bank where potentially useful ecological data oi. sharks may be gathered and collated as contributed, perhaps much of it collected incidental to other marine research. 4. Concentrated ecological and behavioral studies on a variety of representative and preferably ubiquitous species of sharks such as the great white shark, tiger shark, bull shark, or oceanic whitetip. 5. Expansion of research using the most advanced ethological techniques for investigating social, rhythmic and feeding behavior, especially toward a quantification of the results. 6. Continuation of research: behavioral, physiological and...

Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

This publication is amazing. It is definitely basic but shocks in the fifty percent of your publication. You wont feel monotony at anytime of your own time (that's what catalogues are for concerning if you question me).
